

Digestive problems and liver ailments may keep you down this Sunday. But, you will be alright by Monday morning if you take proper medications. Some important work may get stalled at the last moment after coming close to the completion. But, hopes and enthusiasm will be high throughout the week.

Monday and Tuesday may take you away on some uncomfortable travels which will be beneficial for business but highly stressful for your health. Vehicular accidents are possible. Drive carefully and check the condition of your vehicle before embarking on any journey, mainly on Tuesday.

Wednesday may bring some work related efforts and monetary expenditures. These efforts and expenses will give good results. Your power of expression increases and people interacting with you will be impressed by your verbal skills and confident manners, says Jyotish Biz.

Your energy levels will be high and you will go that extra mile to achieve your work targets on Thursday and Friday. Thursday will bring some business expenses but you will be pleased with the outcomes of these efforts by Friday evening. Your tolerance, patience and inner satisfaction will be high on these two days.

Weekend will bring some good friends to you whose help and suggestions will bring monetary gains for you in near future. Business plans will get more realistic and things will become easier in your work.
