Today, Sun moved to Gemini (Mithun) ending its one month long transit in Taurus (Vrishabh). Gemini sign is already under a lot of pressure due to the double effect of Ketu's transit in it and the tenth aspect of Saturn on it from Virgo (Kanya). This pressure will remain high till Ketu leaves Mithun Rashi after one year, on 6th June 2011.

Owing to this double effect of Saturn and Ketu any planet which enters Gemini is unable to give its positive results freely. It too comes under pressure from these two planets. The previous transit of Venus was in this sign ruled by Mercury and we had seen some big setbacks and losses related to the industries ruled by Venus, like the airlines and the hospitality industry.

Now, as Sun enters Mithun rashi, it too comes under this severe pointed influence of Ketu and Saturn. It will be quite troublesome for almost everyone as this transit of Sun is affecting all signs negatively. It is advisable for all to be extra careful about their finances and health till Sun is in transit in Gemini. Surya leaves this sign of Mithun on 16th July 2010.

This transit will bring difficulties in governance in all nations. Banking rules and regulations will be challenged and changed. The nations facing economic downslide can face further deterioration in the situation in next one month. Social spending and welfare will also take a hit in these nations. For India, the real estate related rules and regulations will become tougher and some additional taxes may be imposed or existing taxes increased on the real estate industry.

During this one month long transit of Sun in Gemini Mercury will change two signs. First, it will enter Gemini and will join Sun on 22nd June 2010. Then, it will increase speed due to its proximity to Sun and it will enter Cancer on 6th July 2010. Venus will change one sign, will enter Leo (Simha) on 5th July 2010, during next one month.

This transit will have following effect on the twelve moon signs and ascendants:
