

Financial worries may strain relations with close friends and family members this Sunday. Some people from distant lands may call you or visit you. Some conflicts may arise with your spouse and business partners. Avoid losing your temper. A little patience and a good ear will make things better sooner than expected.

Monday and Tuesday can be quite taxing on your physical condition. You could be provoked to enter into a fight or a struggle to get what you deserve or to uphold your honour. This may motivate you to take some important steps or to make resolutions to prevent such unpleasant incidents in future.

Keep yourself busy this Wednesday. Your hard work will give unexceptionally good results before the end of this week. Go on full steam on your path of success. All attempts towards your goals made now will become fruitful in May 2010, says Jyotish Biz.

Some decisions about a real estate deal may be done this Thursday. Your work may shift to your residence temporarily. Work aimed at aesthetic changes to your workplace may be started on this day. A co-worker of opposite sex may get romantically interested in you.

You may be confined to your home this Weekend. Do something creative and relieve yourself of the daily stress. Some undesired guests may spoil your weekend.
